Out of the Ordinary

May 10, 2011

The last two months have been a little out of the ordinary because our students are on summer break and internships. This different schedule afforded me some out of the ordinary opportunities!

I was able to attend the Asia Pacific Youth Leaders' Consultation in Bangkok. Leaders from ten countries came together to discuss youth issues and ministry, and how we can better reach students from middle school through university. I was encouraged and challenged in the plenary sessions and our small group discussions (Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia; photo at right). We are confident that God is generating passion and creativity in us to reach students for Christ all across Asia!

← I had the opportunity to teach at a week-long English camp for the Engineering Faculty at Chiang Mai University (CMU). Four English ministries in town join efforts to bless the faculty and build relationships with the students. Students become more confident in their English skills, and also get to meet Thai Christians, hear about God's love, and connect with English programs for further study and investigation about Jesus!

Meet my friend... Wor. I met Wor in 2006 on my very first trip to Thailand. We connected right away and have been great friends for 5 years!

Wor is doing a great job with youth ministry in the northeast of Thailand. We want to work together to help pastors and churches across Thailand reach students in their communities for Christ. Thanks for praying for us!

Praise and Prayer

PRAISE GOD FOR - a profitable conference and ministry on the CMU campus; students who are currently studying at TLC English Center during summer term; volunteers coming this summer!

PLEASE PRAY FOR - a bigger vision for youth and student ministry in Thailand, and for resources and people to do it; students who will study English this summer to have open hearts to God.
