Happy Thanksgiving!

I have so much to be thankful for—family, friends, the opportunity to live and serve in Thailand at TLC English Center with loads of great students, faithful supporters who pray and give to be a part of God’s work here, ... my list goes on and on! One thing that Thanksgiving reminds me of is harvest. In Matthew 9:37-38, Jesus reminds us about the harvest of the lost:

“The harvest is plentiful but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field.”

The harvest is indeed plentiful! We continue to see students show interest in Christianity. I recently started a college group at church to disciple the students in our church (picture at right), a group of about eight newer believers. It is a joy to see members of my small group serve God and have a burden for evangelism. Thank God for working in the hearts and lives of Thai students!

And yet the workers are still few! Please ask the God of this harvest to send laborers to Thailand. This past year has been difficult with many months of teaching by myself—imagine what harvest we could see with more workers! Email me to learn more about volunteering: lauren.becker@agmd.org

Praise and Prayer PRAISE GOD FOR - Erica who has come to help at the English Center for 11 months; new and returning students in our current class; faithful support over this last year!
 PLEASE PRAY FOR - harvest to be brought in—that students will have open hearts to receive Jesus; more workers to come help at TLC English Center and build relationships with our students; three volunteers coming next year who are currently raising support

Merry Christmas!
